DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-16 have been examined and are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lotspiech, Et Al. (US 6,118,873).

As per claim 1:

Lotspiech, Et al. discloses a system for decrypting an encrypted computer program, comprising:

means for generating a first cipher key from a first block of the encrypted computer program; (col.6, lines 2-11)

means for decrypting a plurality of second blocks of the encrypted computer program with said first cipher key; (col.6, lines 30-35)

means for generating a second cipher key from one of said plurality of second blocks; and (col.7, lines 46-50 and col.8, lines 25-28)

means for decrypting another of said plurality of second blocks with said second cipher key. (col.6, lines 26-30)

As per claim 2: See col.6, line 33; discussing a first block is not encrypted.

As per claim 3: See col.6, lines 30-38; discussing plurality of second blocks are encrypted at least with said first cipher key before treaded by this system.

As per claim 4: See col.7, lines 13-22; discussing at least one of said plurality of second blocks is encrypted with said second cipher key before treated by this system.

As per claim 5: Lotspiech discusses the system as set forth in claim 1, further comprising:
means for detecting whether or not the encrypted computer program is analyzed; and (col.8, lines 16-35)

means for decrypting a plurality of dummy blocks instead of said plurality of second blocks if it is detected that the encrypted computer program is analyzed. (col.7, lines 26-31)

As per claim 6: Lotspiech discusses a method for decrypting an encrypted computer program, comprising the steps of:

generating a first cipher key from a first block of the encrypted computer program; (col.6, lines 2-11)

decrypting a plurality of second blocks of the encrypted computer program with said first cipher key; (col.6, lines 30-35)

generating a second cipher key from one of said plurality of second blocks; and (col.7, lines 46-50 and col.8, lines 25-28)

decrypting another of said plurality of second blocks with said second cipher key. (col.6, lines 26-30)

As per claim 7: See col.6, line 33; discussing first block is not encrypted.

As per claim 8: See col.6, lines 30-38; discussing plurality of second blocks are encrypted at least with said first cipher key before treaded by this system.

As per claim 9: See col.7, lines 13-22; discussing at least one of said plurality of second blocks is encrypted with said second cipher key before treated by this system.

As per claim 10: Lotspiech discusses the system as set forth in claim 1, further comprising:
means for detecting whether or not the encrypted computer program is analyzed; and (col.8, lines 16-35)

means for decrypting a plurality of dummy blocks instead of said plurality of second blocks if it is detected that the encrypted computer program is analyzed. (col.7, lines 26-31)

As per claim 11:

Lotspiech discloses a computer program product embodied on a computer-readable medium and comprising code that, when executed, causes a computer to perform a method for decrypting an encrypted computer program, said method comprising the steps of:

generating a first cipher key from a first block of the encrypted computer program; (col.6, lines 2-11)

decrypting a plurality of second blocks of the encrypted computer program with said first cipher key; (col.6, lines 30-35)

generating a second cipher key from one of said plurality of second blocks; and (col.7, lines 46-50 and col.8, lines 25-28)

decrypting another of said plurality of second blocks with said second cipher key. (col.6, lines 26-30)

As per claim 12: See col.6, line 33; discussing block is not encrypted.

As per claim 13: See col.6, lines 30-38; discussing plurality of second blocks are encrypted at least with said first cipher key before treated by this system. plurality of second blocks are encrypted at least with said first cipher key before treaded by this method.

As per claim 14: See col.7, lines 13-22; discussing at least one of said plurality of second blocks is encrypted with said second cipher key before treated by this system.

As per claim 15: Lotspiech discusses the system as set forth in claim 1, further comprising: means for detecting whether or not the encrypted computer program is analyzed; and
(col.8, lines 16-35)

means for decrypting a plurality of dummy blocks instead of said plurality of second blocks if it is detected that the encrypted computer program is analyzed. (col.7, lines 26-31)

As per claim 16:

Lotspiech discusses data structure embodied on a computer-readable medium comprising:

a non-encrypted block; and (col.6, lines 30-33)

a plurality of encrypted blocks; (col.4, lines 47-49)

wherein said plurality of encrypted blocks are encrypted with a cipher key generated from said non-encrypted block, and (col.7, lines 4-11)

wherein one of said plurality of encrypted blocks is encrypted with a cipher key generated from another of said plurality of encrypted blocks.

(col.7, lines 13-22 and col.8, lines 25-28)
